APPOINTMENT OF ODDIE PLEASES MINING CIRCLES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Additional assurance that the Administration desired a liberal and sympathetic understanding of the financial problems facing the mining industry in its efforts to secure Federal funds for developing worth-while properties, was evident with the appointment last week of Tasker L. Oddie, former United States Senator from Nevada, as special mining advisor to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Oddie, who was personally appointed by Jesse Jones, director of the RFC., is to work with that agency in an advisory capacity to its board of directors, with a view of bringing about the widest possible co-operation between the RFC and the mining industry.

As president of the Gold Mining Association of America, Oddie, who is credited with the original development of Tonopah, Nevada, one of the largest producers of gold and silver in this country, has been personally active in national mining circles since his retiremet from the political field. His new duties will keep in the West where he will personally examine all mining projects applying for Federal loans.

Oddie's appointment closely followed the opening of the new mining department of the RFC., which was created to administer loans to mining corporations, partnerships and individuals engaged in the business of mining, milling or smelting ores. Loans by the government to mining projects were made possible by the Amendment to the RFC Act sponsored in the last Congress by Congressman James Scrugham, of Nevada. The amendment provides for loans to be granted upon adaquate security, based upon mineral acreage of proven value.

Mining circles here have approved Senator Oddie's appointment as recognition of his long, and varied experience in the industry. During his two terms in the Congress, Oddie served for ten years as chairman of the Senate Mining Committee, and for years headed the United States Senate Committee on Silver Enquiry. He has always been an active leader in mining affairs, both in his own state and nationally.

It is felt that Senator Oddie's broad understanding of the complex problems facing the mining industry today will result in a closer relationship between thousands of mining companies needing capital and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which has been authorized to lend Federal money to open old mines and aid in the development of new properties having proven ore values.

WANTED—ORE SPECIMEN FOR PAPER WEIGHT

U. S. Senator Pat McCarran, who attended the recent reunion of Spanish War Veterans in Grass Valley, has asked A. L. Kelliher, contractor of this city and a fellow member of the Spanish War Veterans organization, to obtain for him a specimen of Nevada county ore to be presented to Commander Hayes at the National convention of the American Legion. This convention will gather in Miami, Florida, within a short time.

ROCKY GLEN DEVELOPMENT

The Graniteville Gold Mining Co., at Graniteville, is opening the Rocky Glen property with Fred Searls as head of the company.

The work so far has consisted largely of driving a long tunnel and the picking up of a strong vein at depth.

Victor Bongard is superintendent with about 15 men employed.

MARSH INSTALLED AS LEGION COMMANDER

Luther Marsh, of Nevada City, was installed as commander of the American Legion post at ceremonies in Grass Valley Saturday night. Mrs. Mildred Johnson was seated as president of the American Legion Auxiliary. The evening, following the installation was devoted to dancing. Light refreshments were served.

TROUT CONSIGNMENT FOR LOCAL STREAMS

It was learned that in the last few days an extra allotment of trout have been made to the following lakes and streams in this section.

The trout will be sent out as follows: 50,000 Loch Leven trout for each of the following: Lakes Fordyce, and Sterling, and the South Fork of the Yuba River; 25,000 Eastern Brook trout for the unnamed lakes near Grouse Ridge; 40,0000 for Bear River in Bear Valley; 50,000 for South Yuba River.

There are to be 725,000 Loch Levin and Eastern Brook trout in this shipment from the Mt. Shasta hatchery to the above streams and lakes of Placer, Nevada and El Dorado counties.

FORMER NEVADA CITY MAN HERE TO VISIT FATHER

John M. Pianezzi, a former Nevada City boy, and representative of a mining machinery house of New Jersey, arrived in New York, August 25, from Chile and Bolivia. He has been in those countries the last 16 years. Five years ago he came to the states for a visit and returned.

Mr. Pianezzi left the west coast of South America, passed through the Panama Canal to New York and then crossed the United States to San Francisco arriving in Nevada City Saturday and visited here with his father, Lawrence Pianezzi.

The machinery shipped from the United States consists mostly of compressors, rock drills, pumps, hoists and drill steel. In Chile the ore is mostly copper, nitrate and gold, while Bolivia has the largest tin mines in the world. The tin is 60 per cent concentrate form is shipped in sacks to Europe. Some of the copper from Chile is shipped to the United States but most of it goes to Europe. Mr. Pianezzi sees many new changes in Nevada City since his last visit home.

STATISTICS SHOW HAIGHT CAN WIN IN NOVEMBER

The following analysis of the primary election was used in the Los Angeles Herald-Express.

The total Republican vote cast in the state was 679,005 from 9,138 precincts. This was an average of 74.3 votes per precinct. Assuming that the same average of Republican votes will be cast in the remaining precincts, the total Republican vote should therefore be approximately 296,284 votes. In the 9,138 precincts Merriam received 301,634 votes, or an average of 33 votes per precinct. With the same average in the remaining precincts the final total in the primaries will be 353,634 for Merriam. This will leave 443,000 votes scattered among Haight, Quinn and Young.

Let us assume that the total vote at the final election in November amounts to 2,000,000 votes in round figures. Based on the voting in the primaries 1,014,940 of them will be Republican votes, or an average of 94.8 votes per precinct. Mr. Merriam captured 44.4 per cent of the total Republican vote cast at the primaries. If we assume that he will receive the same percntage of the total Republican vote cast in November, his personal vote then would be 450,633. If we add to this that he has a reasonable expectancy of securing 40 per cent of the Quinn and Young vote, he would receive a total vote in the November election of 636,255.

At the same time 638,386 Democratic votes were cast from 8,983 precincts, or an average of 72.2 Democratic votes per precinct. Sinclair receivd an average of 38.4 votes per precinct, or up to that hour 344,628 votes. It is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Sinclair was successful in getting out every epic vote in the Democratic party. Assuming that he will continue to receive 38.4 votes for the remaining primary vote, his final vote should be 410,676, or 53.8 per cent of the total Democratic vote cast.

If 2,000,000 votes are cast in the final election, this will mean an average of 187 votes per precinct; 94.8 at least will be Republican and 92.18 Democratic. We may assume that Mr. Merriam, if he receives 44.4 per cent of the total Republican vote in November as his personal vote, will receive 450,633 votes plus 40 per cent of the Quinn and Young vote, which will give a final vote in the November election of 636,355.

Even though it is believed that Mr. Sinclair suceeded in getting out every epic vote at the primaries, and assuming that he receives the same percentage (55.8) of the final Democratic vote that he received at the primaries, this would give him 530,500. Add to this 25 per cent of the regular Democratic vote and his final vote would be 644,390.

Assuming that Haight will receive in the final election, first, his primary vote, second, 60 per cent of the Young and Quinn vote plus three quarters of the supporting Democratic vote that did not vote for Sinclair, this would give him a final vote of 721,255.

Nevada County Again Winner of First Prize

Nevada county again took first prize for displays of gold quartz specimens and nuggets at the State Fair this last week. It is understood the award was made for the largest number of active mines in operation in any county.

While Calaveras county took the prize for nuggets, the large quartz and gold specimen from the collection of Dr. C. P. Jones, of Grass Valley is creating no end of publicity. Many of the specimens are of the leaf pattern, and came from the Red Ledge mine at Washington, formerly owned by the late Williamson Brothers and are of great beauty.

The Nevada county exhibit is in a better location than in former years, therefore there are many more visitors.

There was also a nice display of Nevada county fruit. This county has won a number of prizes in years past for pears and apples.

H. W. ROBINSON NAMED DEBT. COMMISSIONER

H. W. Robinson has received formal appointment as Conciliation Commissioner for Nevada County from the United States District Court at San Francisco. This commission deals with prospective farm foreclosures. Mr. Robinson will receive no salary for his work in the commission.

MRS. SCHEEMER AND SON OFF TO CHICAGO FAIR

Mrs. J. C. Scheemer and son, Chester Scheemer, left at midnight Saturday for the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago, where they will spend a short vacation. They plan to go one route and return another, one way being through the Canadian Rockies. Mr. Scheemer is one of the partners of the Plaza Grocery store.

DOWNIEVILLE EDITOR REBUKED

The following letter, written by District Attorney J. M. McMahon, of Sierra county, is self explanatory:

Downieville, Calif.

The Editor,
Mt. Messenger,
Downieville, California.
Sir:

Referring to your editorial appearing on the front page of your issue of August 18th., 1934, in which you make reference to an alleged conversation between former Sheriff Winstead and myself, please be advised that no such conversation ever took place at any time or at any place. When Mr. Winstead assumed the duties of Sheriff, he came to my office and I assured him that my office and my services were open to him at any time in connection with matters pertaining to the Office of Sheriff. Mr. Winstead consequently availed himself of this offer and conferred with me on many questions concerning legal phases of the conduct of his office. As evidence of this I might cite to you the fact that within fifteen minutes of Sheriff Winstead's death he had left my office after a conference with me.

This office has not interfered with or attempted to dictate to any other county official but has worked harmoniously with all of the county officers with the possible exception of the Supervisor from the Third District and to this officer I have offered my services and assurances of courteous treatment.

It is my own humble opinion that an Editor should be fair minded and should have proper verification of any statement that he makes editorially in his paper, before publishing the same, being apprised of his misinformation he should correct his misstatements.

J. M. MCMAHON,
District Attorney of Sierra County.

BIG SHIPMENT COUNTY PEARS

The Nevada county pear output for 1934 was three times that of last years as only 20 cars were packed in 1933.

The 60 standard cars, packed at Colfax for eastern markets represented more than 120 narrow gauge cars which transported the packed fruit. Packing started July 11 and was continued until September 8. Fully 40 persons were employed in the Grass Valley packing house, which was enlarged this year. Two narrow gauge car loads of plums were also shipped.

Several pear orchards near Nevada City have just completed picking and shipping, while among the larger orchards around Grass Valley, are the Loma Rica ranch, Prisk Bros. orchard, Hartung and Breckenridge, besides a good acreage in the Chicago Park and Peardale districts.

COUNTY TO GET $343,000 FOR HIGHWAY WORK

Nevada county had 22 miles of its county roads added to the state system at the 1933 session of the legislature and this year will receive $21,335.00 more in gasoline taxes than in previous years, according to Assemblyman Jesse M. Mayo of this district.

Nevada county also has or will receive during the current two years $343,0000 in appropriations for construction of state highways within its borders, according to Mayo.

In citing his support of highway and gasoline tax apportionment to the ten mountain counties of his district, Assemblyman Mayo said: "In 1932, I pledged to work for a larger share of the gas taxes for the mountain counties and the inclusion of county roads in the state system. When the new law giving the smaller counties a larger share of gasoline funds and the inclusion of hundreds of miles of roads in the state system passed the assembly, I was the only member of the lower house from 17 mountain counties, due to the resignation of Mr. Ross from Redding, that benefited by the new gas tax law, yet more than 50 votes were secured for the passage of the bill in the assembly.

SUB-A FLOTATION UNIT FOR ZEIBRIGHT MINE

A truck passed through Nevada City the latter part of last week carrying a Sub-A flotation unit for the Zeibright mine, east of this city.

The big mill which was ordered for the mine some time ago, has arrived but has not been erected.

George Kervin, who is in charge of the Murchie mine at Nevada City, is general manager of the Zeibright.

FORMER NEVADA CITY MINERS MAKE STRIKE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker, both with many friends in this city, have returned to Wellington, Nevada, after visiting Mrs. Julia E. Turner, of 118 Elm street, Reno. Tucker and Davis are operating the Side Track mine three miles south of Wellington. They report that they have netted good returns on the property. Recently they brought in a button of gold which weighed an ounce and a half. This came from 50 pounds of ore. A shipment of ore sent to Reno recently, showed approximately $1,900 per ton.

Both Tucker and Davis have worked in Nevada City mines.

HOOVER FONDLY REMEMBERS STAY IN NEVADA CITY

Former President Herbert Hoover still remembers fondly the days he spent as a miner in Nevada City when he boarded up on Boulder street with Mrs. Stanfield.

Friday, with Mrs. Hoover, he strolled into the Nevada County booth at the State Fair and examined the exhibits there, particularly the ore specimen's with much interest, expressing his admiration for some splendid samples shown by the Idaho Maryland mine.

W. H. Griffith, secretary of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, in charge of Nevada County's exhibit and George Calanan, were in the booth at the time. The former President was in a remeniscent mood. He recalled several of the friends he had known in Nevada City when as a Stanford graduate, he began as a mucker in Nevada City mines to learn the mining game in its practical aspects.

Hoover stated that he still kept on his desk the piece of ore that was presented to him by a committee from this city who met him at Colfax when he returned to California to vote in the last presidential campaign.

The dinner bucket, in which the ore was presented to him on that occasion, Calanan recalled, was the same one out of which George Hothersal shared his lunch with young Hoover, while the two were working in the East Harmony mine. Hoover, who brought his lunch in a paper bag had lost it through the depredations of wood rats. He inquired after Joe Fleming and Bob Turner, youths with whom he had worked with. Clifford, another oung man that he met here he found responsible posts for in many parts of the world as he pursued his mining career from one country to another. The former president sent his best regards to the friends he made in his early life.

REALTY TITLES SUBJECT TO DECREE OF COURT

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 8.—Contrary to the belief of several, it is still impossible to sell or give away property in the Townsite of Camptonville, and furnish a certificate of title for same without going through court proceedings. Several people were under the impression that when the Meek Mercantile Company recently went through court to clear the title of four lots which they were giving to the government, that the conclusion of this action automatically cleard the rest of the town. This is not the case, and due to the fact that the title company will not accept the map of this town, whenever anyone sells or gives away any property here, if they are required to give a certificate of title, they will have to go through the same procedure in court that the Meek company recently did. Any property can be deeded without any difficulty, but most purchasers will not accept a deed without the certificate of title which can be obtained only in this manner.

DRUNKING DRIVING CHARGE

Mrs. Bessie Jarrell, Grass Valley restaurant proprietor, accused of driving while intoxicated, will appear before Judge Mobley tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock for a preliminary hearing.

HI SCHOOL LAD DROWNS IN POOL AT GRASS VALLEY

Miles Stanley Edwards, a Nevada City high school student, 15 years of age, was drowned yesterday in the Memorial Park pool of Grass Valley.

The boy, with his sister, Miss Bernice Edwards, of this city, was apperently having a good time in the pool. Witnesses saw him with other boys enjoying the usual water sports. He was missed and was finally found at the bottom of the pool in water that was not over his head.

Efforts of Dr. Carl Jones and another physician to resuscitate him after long and expert endeavor failed. A post mortem examination revealed a sound heart and other organs, so that the cause of his drowning is a mystery.

The lad was the son of Mrs. Sarah Edwards of San Jose and was living with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Erwards of Indian Flat.

Holmes Funeral Home will announce funeral arrangements.

GOLDEN CENTER ACTIVITIES

Seventy-five men are employed at the Golden Center mine in Grass Valley, working two shifts underground in drifting operations. The mill which is understood to be 30 stamps, is running three shifts.

BURLESQUE DRUM WILL MARCH IN SACRAMENTO

The Hydraulic and Quartz Parlors of the Native Sons, of Nevada City and Grass Valley, have entered their Burlesque Drum Corps in the big Admission Day parade in Sacramento, Monday. The parade climaxes a three day celebration and it is expected that it will be one of the most colorful and interesting in the state's history. The parade will aid in impressing all with the importance of the part played by our early pioneers.

A parade was held on Sunday in front of the Grandstand at the State Fair grounds depicting "the evolution of transportation" from the days of the Indian runners and Pony Express up to the present modern means of transportation.

The Hydraulic and Quartz Parlors took down to Sacramento forty native Californians for their Burlesque Drum Corps. The drums are empty nail kegs and the drum sticks are chair rungs. Elza Kilroy is Drum Major. Many Nevada City people from Nevada City journeyed down to witness the historis parade, down to witness the historic parade, in which thousands of Native Sons are to participate. The Manzanita Parlor of Grass Valley, N. S. G. W., will enter their float which won so much approval in the Fourth of July parade of Nevada City.

ECONOMIC DYNAMITE

(Contributed)

A great deal can happen in a year—and high government officials, textile employers and textile workers are realizing the bitter truth of that now.

A little over a year ago, on July 17, the first NRA code went into effect. This was the textile code, held to be a model of its kind. It outlawed child labor, cut working hours and raised wages, improved working conditions. Spokesmen for the NRA and the industry made speeches and statements, said that the code marked a great step forward in social and economic evolution.

Today, the textile mills are silent save for a few in the south, and there are no hands to guide the looms. Almost 500,000 workers have left their jobs, and the greatest strike in American history has begun. Neither side shows signs of giving quarter, both are digging in for a long, unhappy battle. Last hope for early settlement collapsed when final desperate efforts of the government's labor board failed. The workers demand still shorter hours, without wage reduction, plus a closed shop and further complications lie in the threat of sympathetic strikes within other major industries—and that is the stuff of which a national general strike might be made. Heads of the textile union announce that financial contributions are flowing in from all branches of labor, that they will have a war-chest adequate to pursue the strike to what they hope will be a successful outcome. However, the nation's purchasing power will be reduced by about $7,000,000 a week as long as the strike is in effect—and everyone will feel the ill effects.

The whole future of the NRA and, more important still, of employer-employe relations is in the balance. The gravity of the crisis cannot be over-emphasized—it is literally packed with dynamite.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Arbogast and daughter, Miss Helen, and Miss K. Kinkead, motored to Stockton Monday. Miss Arbogast remained to enter the College of the Pacific as a freshman.

DRAMAS OF WIDE INTEREST ON NEV. THEATER SCREEN

The House of Rothschild will show for the last time tonight at the Nevada Theater. The story of the founding and development of the great banking house of Rothschild is accurately portrayed in this fine historical play. George Arliss has the starring role and is ably supported by Boris Karloff, Robert Young and Loretta Young.

Tuesday brings Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey to the screen in an uproarious farce of ye olden days. As a couple of goofy gallants of the medieval ages, Wheeler and Woolsey trip through a melange of merriment, melody, and misfortune with Thelma Todd and Dorothy Lee. "Cockeyed Cavaliers" revolves around the chiseling proclivities of Bert and Bob in the days of old when knights were bold. The costumes of the period make Wheeler and Woolsey even funnier than naturally. Although the story and scenes are laid in the middle ages, the wise cracks are very 1934, while the music is the acme in melody.

"Operator 13" is the next offering of the Nevada Theater on Wednesday and Thursday. The picture is based on the last best-selling novel of the late Robert W. Chambers. Marion Davies plays the role of a northern actress who is sent into the Southern lines to track down Jack Gaillard, scout on the staff of General J. E. B. Stuart, played by Gary Cooper. The picture is replete with authentic historical episodes and in the cast appear characters whose names were in Civil War history. Others in the cast are the Four Mills Brothers, Jean Parker, Katherine Alexander, Ted Healy, Russell Hardie, Henry Wadsworth and Willard Robertson.

NORTH SAN JUAN

By MRS. F. M. HARRIS

NORTH SAN JUAN, Sept. 5,—The schools of our land are again opening their doors. The Nevada City high school began August 27 with 16 students going in on the French Corral-North San Juan-Nevada City school bus, driven by R. C. Dare. The bus picks up a number of grammar school children along the way and is well loaded when it reaches town.

As usual San Juan sends a goodly number of young people to high school. Six freshmen and three former students making more than half of those going from the Ridge.

French Corral and Birchville schools also opened on August 27 with Miss Teresa O'Connor teaching the first and Mrs. C. H. Jones, the latter. The teacher engaged for the Birchville school was taken sick with scarlet fever and Mrs. Jones will substitute until she recovers.

On September 4, the Sweetland school began with Miss Ursula Reader as teacher and Miss Virginia Ramm opened the San Juan school on the same date. Thirty-six pupils were enrolled here the first day.

Babe and Clara Pinaglia, who have spent the summer with their aunt, Mrs. Wodell, have returned to Sacramento as their school commences.

Mrs. Aldredge and daughters, Mildred and Fay, returned home last Tuesday, after a summer in Yuba City.

Miss Virginia Ramm and her mother are keeping house in an apartment in Miss Lohman's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Odin and Mr. Odin Sr., of Reno, spent Sunday and Monday on their ranch west of town. While here they had their apples and pears picked and took home with them several hundred pounds of fruit.

Jean McCullough spent the week end and Labor Day at his home.

Mr. C. J. Lyser went to Marysville on Sunday to take his daughter, Mrs. Fisk and Miss Betty and Mr. Fisk to the train to return to Berkeley. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Fisk have been making a weeks visit at the San Juan mine and Miss Betty spent the summer there with her parents but went back to school in Berkeley.

Leland Shaffer returned Sunday from a two weeks visit in Napa. He had a wonderful trip on his way there, with Norman Fogarty on his motorcycle.

Murray Young has joined the CCC. camp near Nevada City.

Suppose he had! What business was that of Jim's? None, except that he now formed one of Hays' band and as such had a right to question activities. Rustling cattle, at least in a moderate way, was almost a legitimate business. Ranchers, since the early days of the cattle drives from Texas, had accepted their common losses. It had been only big steals that roused them to ire and action, to make outlaws out of rustlers. Nevertheless, it was extremely doubtful, out here in the wilds of Utah, that even a wholesale steal would be agitating. To abduct a girl, however, might throw western interest upon the perpetrators. Hays' object assuredly was to collect ransom.

Still that had not been Heeseman's intimation, nor had it been Jim's original suspicion. He gave it up in disgust. Time would tell. But he did not feel further inclined to call upon Heeseman. He would stick to Hays, awaiting developments.

The ensuing day passed uneventfully. No one of Smoky's outfit showed up, nor did Hays return. Jim waited for Herrick to give him orders, which were not forthcoming. The rancher was chasing jackrabbits and coyotes with the hounds.

Next morning Jim made it a point to ride over to the barns. The rancher came down in a queer costume. The red coat took Jim's eye. A motley pack of hounds and sheep dogs was new to Jim, as he had not seen or heard any dogs about the ranch. Jim was invited to ride along with Herrick and the several cowboys. They went by Heeseman's camp, which was vacant. Jim was to learn that the rancher had put the Heeseman outfit to work on the cutting and peeling of logs up on the slope, preparatory to the erection of a new barn.

Jack rabbits were as thick as bees. The cowboys led the dogs, which soon became unmanageable and bolted. Then the race was on. Where the ground was level and unobstructed by brush or cut up by washes Herrick did fairly well as to horsemanship, but in rough going he could not keep to the English saddle. He would put his horse at anything and he had a jarring fall.

Nothwithstanding this, Herrick finished out the hunt. He was funny, and queer, but he was game, and Jim liked him. On the way back Jim amused the Englishman by shooting jack rabbits with his revolver. He managed to kill three out of five to Herrick's infinite astonishment and admiration.

"By Jove! I never saw such marksmanship," he ejaculated.

"That was really poor shooting."

"Indeed. What would you call good shooting, may I ask?"

"Well, riding by a post and putting five bullets into it. Or splitting the edge of a card at twenty feet."

"Let me see your gun?"

Jim Wall broke his rule when he handed it over, butt first.

Herrick looked at it with mingled feelings. "Why, there's no trigger!" he exclaimed, in utter astonishment.

"I do not use a trigger."

"Thunderation, man! How do you make the pistol go off?"

"Look here. Let me show you," said Jim, taking the gun. "I thumb the hammer. . . like that."

"By Jove!—But please explain."

"Mr. Herrick, the cocking of a gun and pulling the trigger require twice as much time as thumbing. For example, supposing the eyesight and the draw of two men are equal, the one who thumbs his hammer will kill the other."

"Ah—Er—Yes. I see. Most extraordinary. Your American West is quite bewildering. Is this thumbing a common practice among you desperadoes?"

"Very uncommon. So uncommon that I'll be obliged if you will keep it to yourself."

"Oh!—Yes, by Jove! I see. Ha! ha! ha! I grasp the point. . . . Wall, you're a comforting fellow to have round the place."

Herrick was evidently a free, careless, impressive man who had been used to fulfilling his desires. His eccentricity was not apparent, except in the fact of his presence there in wild Utah. He liked horses, dogs, guns, the outdoors, physical effort. But he had no conception whatever of his remarkable situation in this unsettled country.

When they arrived at the barn he asked Jim to ride up to the house, where they would look over some English guns.

The big living room had three windowed sides and was bizarre and strange to Jim, though attractive. Herrick had brought with him a quantity of rugs, skins, pictures, and weapons.

The heavy English guns earned Jim's solemn shake of head. "No good at all here, Mr. Herrick. Not even for grizzly. Get a forty-four."

"Thank you. I shall do so. I'm fond of the chase."

SAFETY PLEA ON SCHOOL OPENING

With the opening of schools for the fall term and the return of more than a million children to their classrooms in this state, motorists face an increased need for careful driving. Many younger children are attending school for the first time. Others are attending new schools and traversing unfamiliar routes. The responsibility for their safety rests largely upon the motoring public.

These facts are emphasized in a statement by Percy E. Towne, of San Francisco, chairman of the Public Safety Committee of the California State Automobile Association, in connection with an announcement that the motorists organization will stress this phase of the safety problem in a program of educational activities during September.

"Every motorist should recognize the obligation to drive cautiously in the vicinity of schools, particularly when children are seeking to cross the street or highway," Towne said. "Children cannot be depended upon to use the judgment necessary for their own protection and the responsibility for their safety rests mainly upon the motorist."

Towne drew attention to the state law limiting speed to fifteen miles per hour when passing a school building or grounds during school, recess or while children are going to or leaving school or school playgrounds are in use by children. He added a plea to motorists to co-operate with the boys of the School Traffic Patrol by yielding the right of way to them so that they may conduct children safely over crossings. The Patrol, sponsored by the Automobile Association, now numbers more than 7,600 boys in northern and central California.

PUNTS AND FUMBLES

By G. W. L.

NOW THAT the sound of thudding pigskin is in the air again and the various teams in this locality are preparing for the coming gridiron season it seems time, according to writer to dust off his lungs and go out and do some rooting for the home team. Bev Barron, with a little local support, has a fair chance of making his Nevada City Yellow-Jackets go to town in the way of victories. Some active rooting fans will make a difference in the morale of a team, making a good team better and more enthusiastic. It looks as though the insistance of Bev Barron on football fundamentals, blocking, tackling, etc., is about to bear fruit this year to the detriment of some of the Yellow Jacket's rivals.

ALSO, and not to be too beforehand, the battle on the Pacific Coast League front will draw out its quota of second guessers and bleacher coach geniuses. Everyone of the big colleges and universities are out to get Stanford's scalp. There is much swearing of solemn vows at U. S. C., California, U. C. L. A., and way points. Bobby Grayson, Stanford's ace full-back and candidate for All American honors, reports from Portland that even Oregon State is on the warpath this year, mighty determined to take up on Stanford where Columbia left off in the Rose Bowl debacle.

BE THAT AS IT MAY, this writer makes no prognostications yet. Wait till the season gets under way and then watch the sparks fly. We can make just as many guesses, good or bad as the next guy, so watch Professor Larje Beagle's first hallucinations on about September 28, when the big guns are well under way.

WHETHER OR NOT, the college teams are about to blossom out in shorts as "Navy Bill" Ingram promises, to take advantage of the new liberal pass rulings, is a question. No doubt it will make the game more interesting, but we are old-fashioned enough to believe that the line buck is more powerful than the "pass and pray" system.

ALREADY those stalwart Californians, Messers. Tharp and Myers Mobley are showing plenty of optimism about California's chance even after paying out considerable coin of the realm by reason of Stanford 7-3 victory last year.

ANYWAY, and to close any comments or contributions to this column will be gladly received and given careful attention.
